Design of Great Places – Navigating the Market

by Feng Xiao, Principal of Torti Gallas, USA

Wednesday May 14, 2008

Registration and Lunch: 11:30

Presentation: 12:00 to 1:00

Location: 6th Floor, Calgary Drop-in Centre, 423 4 Ave SE
(please arrive before 11:55am as participants will be grouped to access the secured elevator to 6th floor.)

$20 AACIP members/$25 non-members $15 students

Please join Ms. Xiao, the Principal of Torti Gallas, as she outlines a number of award winning case studies to introduce sustainable design strategies addressing the competing market demands.

Ms. Xiao will present designs for mixed-income neighborhoods and walkable communities that have meaningful connections to other urban destinations. She will illustrate designs that respond to the context and reflect the neighborhood's diverse characters. Led by an interdisciplinary team, the dynamic design process includes educating key stakeholders, consulting communities, and integrating technical solutions with professional expertise to create long-term success.

Ms. Xiao's work centers on designing residential and urban revitalization projects. Among others, she has been successful with creating transit-oriented affordable housing projects. Her firm, Torti Gallas has won a number of Congress for the New Urbanism Awards and Macarthur Park Metro in Los Angeles, California, has been celebrated as "...creating a vital and safe public realm and the 'sense of place' that will encourage ridership, promote a more pedestrian-friendly community as well as the inextricable link to its urban context."
